

Aspen's Top 5 Leaf-Peeping Spots

Summer in the High Country is coming to an end, but don't despair. The fall colors in the mountains surrounding Aspen are spectacular, and the show is just beginning. Don't delay, though: The bright yellow leaves on the aspen trees and earthy orange hues of the underbrush won't last long.

With that in mind, we're telling you our Top 5 spots to see this year's fall colors. And there's something for everyone on the list -- from hikes, to bike rides, to drives. So get your cameras ready and GO! For complete list, go to <http://blog.aspenchamber.org>

Aspen FilmFest September 30th - October 4th

The Meeting, September 24-27

Aspen/Snowmass will once again host The Meeting, September 24-27, 2009, the premier gathering of snowsports filmmakers, athletes, sponsors, media and fans. The 2009 event is celebrating its fifth anniversary and continues to be the cornerstone kick-off event for the ski and snowboard industry each season. The latest snow films will be screened while parties and the third annual D&E Fashion Show will surround the films. In addition, private sessions with guest speakers and athletes will allow for spirited discussion on the state of the industry. It all kicks off Thursday night with the NEPSA Video Awards at the Wheeler Opera House. For complete list of featured movies and events, go to aspenmass.com
